

Sexual Harassment: Who + Where

Everyday Life

- 65% of women have experienced street harassment.
- 23% of these women had been sexually touched. 20% were followed.
- 86% of women that reported being harassed have been harassed more than once.
- 68% of women harassed were afraid the harassment would escalate into something worse.
- 25% of men have experienced street harassment.
- 86% of 168 girls surveyed in Chicago report being harassed on the street.

At Work

- 38% of women experience sexual harassment at work.
- 80% of women in the restaurant industry experience sexual harassment from co-workers.
- 80% of women in the restaurant industry experience sexual harassment from customers.
- 66% of women in the restaurant industry experience sexual harassment from management.
- 7% of United States women work in the restaurant industry but account for 37% of all sexual harassment claims to the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission.
- 50% of women know someone that has quit or been fired from a job because of sexual harassment.

At School

- 62% of female college students report having been sexually harassed at their university. 80% of that harassment is peer-to-peer.
- 51% of male college students admit to sexually harassing someone in college.
- 48% of students grades 7-12 experience sexual harassment.
 - 56% of girls grades 7-12 experience sexual harassment.
 - 12% of girls grades 7-12 report sexual harassment to an adult at the school.
- 30% of students grades 7-12 experience sexual harassment through social media or other Internet activities.
- 35% of students harassed in high school report they first experienced it in elementary school.
- 29% of high school students that experience sexual harassment also identify themselves as perpetrators of sexual harassment.

* Statistical Reports and Information listed on this poster can be found in the Stats and Facts section of www.icasa.org.